Dear METR 2103 Mechanics Student,

The notes I took for Dr. Fiedler’s “Stand and Deliver” quizzes from Fall 2002 have been removed. These were originally posted and intended to be study aids for a group of Fall 2002 students who had actually attended class sessions that covered the original material. Respecting that this material is actually the work product of Dr. Fiedler … and realizing that he may wish to reuse this material … I have removed it voluntarily and without request.

If you are a former METR 2103 student who has completed this course, I will still be happy to share these notes with you.

If you have not yet taken this course and feel that you have a legitimate reason for access to this material … such as having excused absences from class … simply have Dr. Fiedler contact me with permission and I will share these notes with you.

Thank you for understanding!
